LAUDATO SI WEEK

Activity Name	Ecological Economy & Adoption Of Simple Life Style
Date of Activity	10.10.2024
Mode of Conduct	Offline
Time	10.00 AM -12.00 PM
Participants	Students -15
Description	The Department of Computer Science actively participated in Laudato Si Week by organizing an event on “Ecological Economy & Adoption of Simple Lifestyle” on 10th October 2024, conducted offline from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM. Fifteen students took part in this impactful initiative, which emphasized the importance of an eco-economy, a sustainable and equitable economic system that prioritizes environmental stewardship and social justice. As part of the Eco Bricks activity, students collected waste plastic bottles and filled them with single-use plastic materials to create practical and decorative items such as sofas, coffee tables, flowerpots, and shelves. Their innovative creations reflected both creativity and a deep commitment to sustainable living. The event served as an educational and inspirational platform, promoting the values of ecological responsibility and encouraging the adoption of a simpler, more conscious lifestyle. Students also raised awareness about pollution and environmental protection, motivating others to take part in similar green initiatives. Future plans include expanding the reach of such programs through community workshops, developing online resources for simple living, and collaborating with local governments to support eco-friendly policies and practices.
