Description	Asian Diaspora Literature refers to the literary works produced by writers of Asian descent who are living outside of their home countries. These works often explore themes of identity, displacement, and cultural hybridity, reflecting the experiences of individuals who straddle multiple cultural worlds. In a recent paper presentation on Asian Diaspora literature, the chief guest Akilandeshwari Srinivasan and Iyyappan Raja highlighted the importance of these literary works in providing a platform for marginalized voices and challenging dominant narratives. They emphasized the need for greater recognition and appreciation of Asian diasporic literature in academic and literary circles. The presentation also delved into the ways in which Asian diasporic literature can serve as a tool for cultural preservation and resistance against assimilation. Ms.B.Suganya Assistant Professor department of English took eight students from UG to participate in the competitions. Our students presented a paper on various topics. Finally our students received participant's certificates. By showcasing the diverse experiences and perspectives of Asian Diaspora communities, these works contribute to a more nuanced understanding of the complexities of identity and belonging. Overall, the paper presentation underscored the significance of Asian Diaspora literature in shaping conversations around migration, globalization, and cultural diversity. It served as a call to action for scholars, writers, and readers to engage with and support the vibrant and diverse literary traditions of Asian Diaspora communities.
